Subject : To extend the submission date of IV semester
PGI project

Respected sir,

Respected sir, the students of 4th semester Msc home science, studying at Sree Narayana college for women Kollam hereby request you to extend the last date of final year project submission since we just started our project work on vacation which is still in progress. As per the university notification, the date of commencement of 4th semester examination is on 10th of July and it seems to be really hard to find time for project submission since we have only a few days left. So it's a humble request from us to extend the date of project submission, which will be great relief to us.

Yours faithfully,
